Irene van Ophoven

Never static, this Dutch design studio consistently seeks out interesting colourways, materials and techniques to apply to its woven creations

Dutch designer and stylist Irene van Ophoven discovered an outlet for her love of geometric motifs and interesting colour combinations when she established her eponymous studio in Rotterdam. Experimentation lies at the forefront of the studio's design process; van Ophoven consistently seeks to push boundaries with her collections of carpets, pillows, wall hangings and wallpaper that 'combine fun and function', adding 'tactility and creative optimism to an interior'. This mentality extends to the studio's creative collaborations with interior designers and brands, creating bespoke designs that elevate a space. Irene van Ophoven recently showcased her designs at Paris Design Week and Maison & Objet in September.
